

⋮

Project 3: Comparing Q&A Subreddits

Which questions get answered and how?

⋮

Table of contents

01

Which Subreddits?

And why

02

Process & Results

Coding & modelling

03

So What?

Zooming way out

01

Which Subreddits?

People have a lot of questions

Lots of questions, lots of forums

⋮

- Ask Reddit
- No Stupid Questions
- Explain like I'm five
- Answers
- Out of the Loop

⋮

How these subreddits work

Questions

Rules!

Answers

Also rules!

Solution?

Or discussion

02

Process & Modelling

API & NLP

⋮

Reddit API

Easy, repeated

Pre-processing

Easy, iterative

Data Modelling

Grayer-box, Iterative

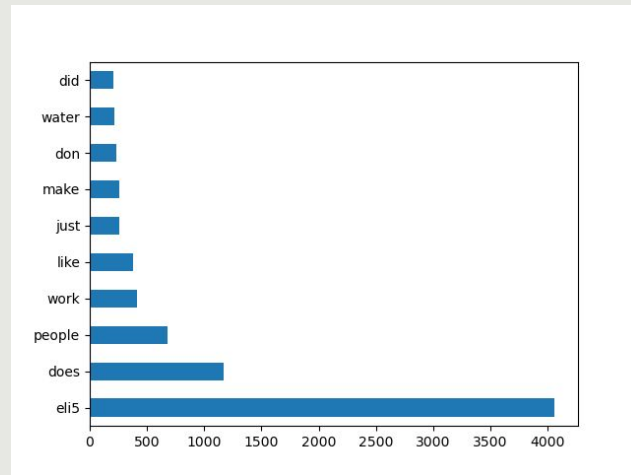

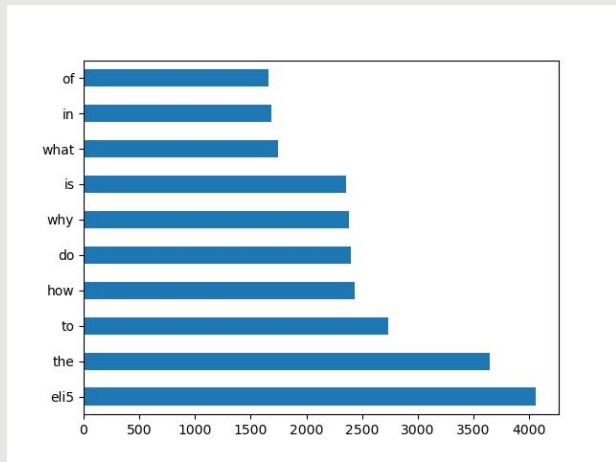

Interpretation

Trickier

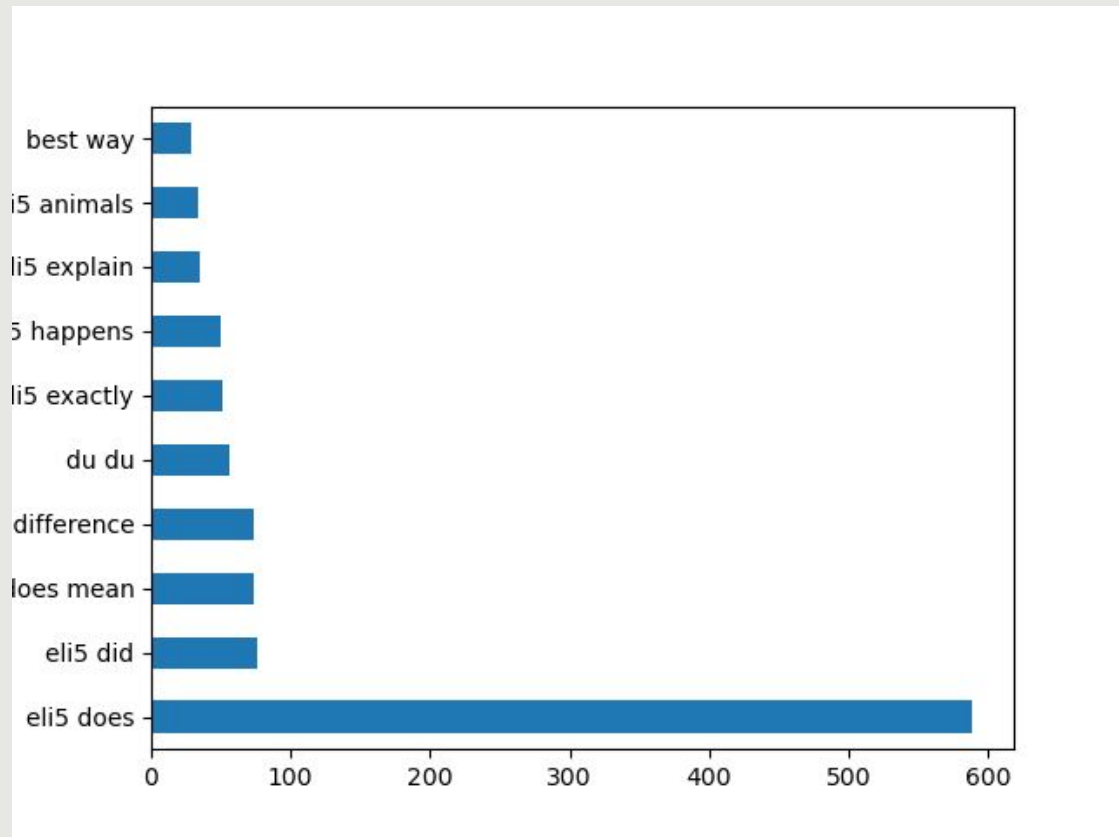

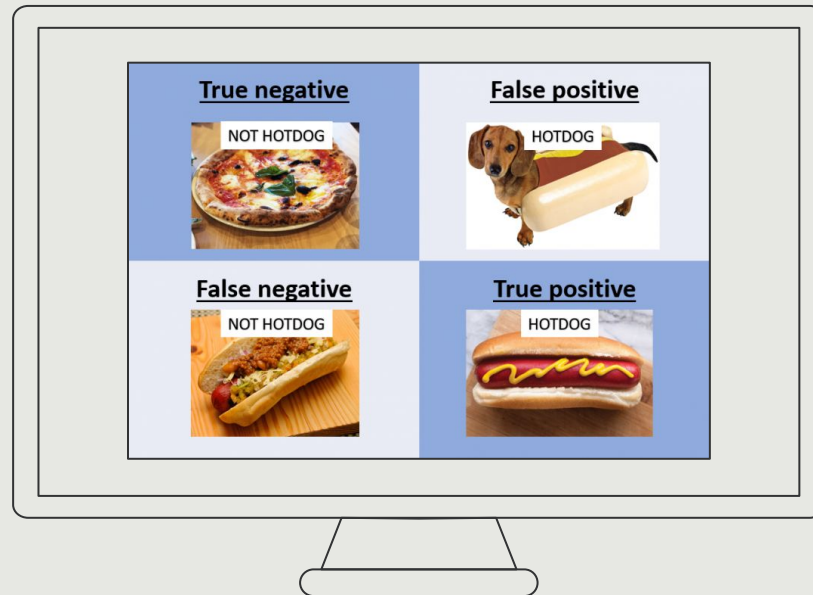

Words shared in both corpora?

Bigrams are better,
but not by much

Accuracy?

My model needs improvement

03

Conclusions & Suggestions

One or more of these people may visit Reddit

⋮

No really, so what?

AI

UX pathways

Any ideas?

Thanks!

Classmates in the Project 3 breakout room.

GA's lesson planners & our teachers.

Various websites with various attributions in my code.

CREDITS: This presentation template was created by Slidesgo, and includes icons by Flaticon, and infographics & images by Freepik

Please keep this slide for attribution

Any questions?

CREDITS: This presentation template was created by Slidesgo, and includes icons by Flaticon, and infographics & images by Freepik

